

Connect

As IMTEX attracts some of the industry experts, this awareness programme allows the mechanical and engineering students to interact with them. This is a unique opportunity for the future builders of the country to understand the available opportunities and gather knowledge about the manufacturing industry. This is also a golden opportunity for the students to pick on the brains of some of the best in the industry and imbibe those qualities, which will be crucial for their future.